HORIZONTAL DIRECTIONAL DRILL (HDD) TECHNOLOGY

apollo™

HDD is a trenchless method of installing pipe in the ground at variable angles using a guidable drill head. It is one of the latest methods that reduce the cost and time to accelerate the utility construction like gas, electric, telecommunications, etc.

HDD technology allows the work under the water and other obstacles. It is used for underground utilities without trenching or excavating of soil.

India's First Horizontal Directional Drill Machine, developed and manufactured by Apollo Techno. After intense research and development, Apollo has introduced HDD Machines with cost effective approach.

Our HDD machines exceed your expectations of how a drill should perform. On a tough pull, Ashok Leyland engine creating unmatched performance that the operator can actually feel. Our compact and simple designed machines fitted with quality components, which ensure long lasting productivity, durability, reliability, easy operations and maintenance.

Available Models
